

I believe the rural wireless infrastructure development needs to be expanded. This infrastructure is extremely helpful to people and ensures no one is left out of the opportunity to be connected to family and friends whenever they need to be. Whether it be working on the farm or driving across country.