

I moved from the city to Rural America and we need the same type service as we receive in the cities. I urge you to expand.

Please help improve the lives of rural Americans by protecting and expanding the Universal Service Fund (USF) for wireless providers. In the world today, we have to be able to reach people in emergencies, and for safety reasons. We deserve the same service no matter where we live or travel. It is essential.

Capping the fund will shut the door on rural America. Less USF support for rural wireless networks will leave us with poor coverage, dropped calls and dangerous dead zones. The urban/rural technology gap will only widen.
