

Keep the Internet free, save net neutrality

Free speech is what this democracy is about, and net neutrality is the last bastion of media to maintain citizens' right to communicate with others, Net neutrality is essential to economic equal opportunity in America.

We cannot give the phone and cable companies that helped China censor its people's access to open communication via the internet to censor Americans by becoming the gatekeepers of the internet, They will discriminate against the small web sites that don't or can't pay their unnecessary tolls. They will not be adding any services that merit any fees they ask for, hence their control is simply a theft of America's free speech rights.
