

Why our Internet should be free...

One of the biggest reasons why I think that network neutrality laws should exist, is because I don't want the media companies to take control of our streams. I run a local web server off my internet connection, and if they decide to take control, I would have to dish out thousands of dollars just for hosting a couple pages. Also, please think about E-Commerce. How are other countries going to communicate with America if their telecommunication companies are on different standards? all this would do is create huge problems, and not only that, give media companies the ability to destroy the free and open internet that we enjoy today. Thank you for your time!
