

Wireless telecommunications is no longer a luxury in our society; it is a fundamental necessity for public health, safety and economic development.

Rural america needs the same cell phone service as a big city- Please dont leave us behind-