

Gentlemen:

I own several shares of Siris Radio and have listened to XM radio several times. Each has several things to offer the public and think that a merger of the two companies would enhance the programs offered as well as increase the the benefits to the coustmer, with lower programming cost.

The AM and FM radio stations do not offer programming or a service on dailey basis that is as diverse or interesting as these stations.

In my opinion the merger should ba allowed.

Respectfully submitted

Larry Beuhring