

Dear Sirs,

I want to keep the internet open. I oppose letting large companies determine my access. The 700 MHz band should be open and not blocked by companies like AOL, ATT and the like. We need to let more people on the internet and make room for high-speed wireless. Please do not let the media companies control the access.

Respectfully,
Richard Nevill