

I believe XM and Sirius should be able to merge... I can't understand how this would be a monopoly...The world is changing... Just take a look at WIFI Internet radio There is competition from every corner they deserve the right to compete.