

I would like to comment on the proposed merger of XM Satellite Radio (XMSR), and Sirius Radio (SIRI) licenses.

I am 100% IN FAVOR of this proposed merger and urge the FCC to approve this merger.

I own both XM and Sirius radios. A combination of these two licenses would help me out as a consumer. I would pay less or the same, and only have to own one device. I also own an HD radio, an IPOD, and an internet capable phone. These devices all compete for my entertainment time.

I am a holder of a valid FCC Amatuer Radio license (W4YYZ) and I am familiar with many of the laws of the airwaves.

Again, I support this decision for XM and SIRIUS radios to merge into one company and one license. It will benefit countless consumers like myself.
