

To whom it may concern:

I do not know how much weight public comments even bring to policies or regulations but I want to express my disapproval of this merger.

You are going to allow two failing companies to merge, getting around the initial FCC satellite ruling intended to stop such acts.

It may be a different technology or medium of transmission, but this will end the same as always: monopoly control, higher prices, less choices, and will not serve the best interest of the public.

Thank you.
