

Dear FCC,I don't believe that the XM and Sirius merger is good for the customer. Please do not let the merger proceed as we the customer will lose out in our ability to have choice. Should the rates increase, I would not have any option but to cancel my service and lose the investment in hardware to support the service. Should I have a complaint with the service I have no leverage as a consumer and the combined company will not have any real interest in satisfying me.

Thank you.

Gordon
