

I think the net should be neutral. If it isn't the isp's will be able to monopolize on what their customers pay for. As if the 'bridge to nowhere' was an embarrassment to the federal gov't.