Dear FCC:

As an investor and customer of Sirius Satellite Radio I strongly urge the approval of the proposed merger. As an investor the merger makes perfect sense. With all the competition from various forms of media, Sirius and XM need to be able to compete. The environment has drastically changed from the time of their initial licenses. Many more forms of competition have entered the market and these companies should be allowed to merge to better compete in this environment. This merger would allow for a better, more stable, investment opportunity. As a customer, I stand to gain once again. First, I would have better programming choices and so a better product would be delivered through my radio. Second, I strongly believe that the increase in service will not cost me any more than I am currently paying. In fact, I am convinced that as a customer I will receive better programming and better pricing through the synergies of a merger. Better pricing, better programming -- Who could ask for more. For these reasons I respectfully request/urge your approval of the proposed merger. //Frank Rossi

Sincerely,
