

With the advent of Ipods, Itunes, internet phones, Internet radio, etc. , I find it difficult to understand how a XM/Sirius merger would create a monopoly. We are beyond the days of transistor radios and technology has changed significantly since the agreement 10 years ago not to merge.