

I believe the proposed merger between XM and Sirius is a good idea. Satellite radio is competing against free radio on FM and AM bands as well as the internet and mp3 players therefore it would not be a monopoly but a consumer choice.