

It does NOT serve the interests of the public (whom the FCC was set up to serve) to allow giant media companies to merge. The interests of the public are best served by diverse managements and the largest possible number of many differently-owned media outlets. This is because one point of view will predominate across large sections of the media dial, if there is only one owner of those many outlets. For this reason I am against the merger of Sirius and XM radio.

Sincerely,

Fran Luck
