

Save the Internet!

Hello! My name is Andrew and I happen to be a fifteen year old student / blogger / entrepreneur. Net neutrality is a very important issue to me as-well as everyone who uses the internet. The internet allows the spread of knowledge, and free speech to everyone, regardless of their financial situation. Allowing a private company to completely control the internet would jeopardize the very values that America was founded on. America's economy, values, and people depend on this. Please, save the internet!
