

The last big safeguard!

Net Neutrality is the last big safeguard against media controlling all the airwaves. The Net builds community, lets the smaller voices get heard, and makes sure that corporate America doesn't become our thought police.

Don't take it away! I have Comcast, but I am not interested in having them decide who gets to connect more quickly!