

WHERE IS THAT BILL OF RIGHTS????ANYBODY KNOW?

I was just wondering what I should tell my 10 year old son where he asks me why he can't say what he wants anymore. I grew up in a home where people of any color or any political background were welcome. Do you have any idea what kind of benefit this is to a growing youth?

How about the ability to research anything you need to even less the politically correct things on the internet? I don't agree with some opinions but that doesn't discount the RIGHT these people have to express them.

I have worked in IT for years and I remember a time when the internet was going to be free to everyone. COST FREE AND BS FREE. This system was setup so we could communicate with other people not so you could decide what we could say and the cable and phone companies could decide what we say based on cost.

Frankly the FCC is unconstitutional and I think you should keep your hands out of radio, TV and everything else. I will decide what my child gets to watch and learn not you and I certainly don't need you to do it for me. If you should decide to redeem your Federal selves then you should not allow anyone to dictate what,when,where, and how the internet is governed. It should all be free!!!! Greed is not in the bill of rights but that is.....

Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion, or prohibiting the free exercise thereof; or abridging the freedom of speech, or of the press; or the right of the people peaceably to assemble, and to petition the government for a redress of grievances.

Jessica Flores
Schenectady NY