

Save our company from impending doom!

I work for a small company of about 20 employees. We sell guitar parts online, and the web is our lifeblood. If net neutrality ceases to exist, we will no longer be able to compete in online sales, and it will be the end of our little company. I can only imagine that we are just one of thousands of similar companies that have sprung up as a result of the even playing field that the internet currently represents.

The end of net neutrality will mean the end of thousands of jobs for many already established small businesses. Please don't allow this to happen!
