

Dear Ladies/Gentlemen: I want to voice my vigorous opposition to the proposed merger of the two satellite radio broadcasters, XM and Sirius. I feel that a merger would create a monopoly industry and that only one company would not serve the public or my personal interests in any significant way. I already feel that I pay (and for all practical purposes have no real choice) too much for too little true service to several other "regulated" industries; power company, cable television, land line telephone, etc. As I understood it the whole reason to allow the two (2) satellite radio companies to exist in the first place was to offer new radio services and channels that were more nationally based and that would result in a significant amount of additional choices on my radio dial. If these two companies are allowed to merge into one it seems not only unfair to my regular local radio stations (which I also much enjoy for their more local coverage) but that it would result in a lot less choices of programming (and price options) for me in the future. I hope you will take my positions into consideration in deciding whether or not to let these two (2) companies merge - they are the ONLY two (2) companies in this industry to my knowledge ... PLEASE vote NO for this proposed merger/monopoly! Sincerely,

Dennis Jones
