

Freedom equals net neutrality

Net neutrality is as essential as free speech for the American public. As a college student I participate in a small underground newspaper that is distributed widely over the internet. If our voice is squashed online then the mega news conglomerates will have won and we as a people will be subject to even more trash news, such as spoiled brats going to jail or porn stars dying. The grass root voices will be destroyed and we will all pay for those consequences socially and politically!

Please save the internet from those corporations that don't give a damn about freedom of speech or people. The internet was built on tax payers time and money, stop selling out the American people and stand up for us damnit!!!
