

Independent media

Hi, I am an independent filmmaker and I realized the great strengths the Internet has for amateur artists and any other respectful hobbyist, profession, etc. Free marketing of movies, merchandise and art is what America is all about, we need freedom outside big corporations, we need the little guys out there making their stuff the way they like, it's the only way for anyone to be American in this country if we didn't have a fair and free Internet like now, we would be stuck with one media, one consumer goods, etc. I want to be able to go to a Internet and show what ever the hell I want without some big wallet stepping over my rights, censorship is the greatest threat I'm worried about. We're coming to a time where it's impossible to completely say what you want to say without being censored because someone isn't pleased or gets offended, people won't be able to express themselves as easy as it is with a censored Internet. I BELIEVE THE INTERNET IS THE ONLY PLACE THAT IS TRULY FREE. I don't want that to change, If any thing should be censored or changed it's Child pornography, animal cruelty. The things that are really bad illegal things, if this net neutrality is lost, the people's word will loose. AMERICA NEEDS A FREE INTERNET!

I want to be able to produce films from my expression, watch what I like to watch, buy and sell what I want, do what I want on the Internet.
