

What is wrong with you people? Are corporate profits the only thing that you serve? We, the people, are increasingly dependent on the internet, and are at the mercy of the mega corporations. How about some public access for a change.

It would be a big mistake to hand over these airwaves to the very same phone and cable companies that dominate the wireline market. We need more competition and innovation, not more of the same. This new wireless spectrum must be open and neutral so that America can build a better Internet for everyone.
