

Monopoly ISPs guarantee no choice for consumer

We are starting down a slippery slope of censoring the internet. Other communist countries do this. This move sets the precedent for any company or government to limit access to a web site or web service that it may not agree with politically or morally. These people need to get their hands off our freedom!

This is an epidemic in America because the consumer has no choice. Big business has stifled competition and have monopoly control over their various markets.

So not only am I outraged that the ISPs "throttle" traffic, but there isn't any service I can opt for without this infringement

These people are supposed to be service providers. We pay them a monthly fee! I pay Comcast to give me bandwidth, I don't want them deciding which content I can see.
