

Please help protect local and diverse radio by adopting the proposal described in MM Docket No. 95-31 to limit the number of applications for the NCE FM New Station Applications in the October 2007 filing window.

By limiting the number of applications from any single entity, the FCC will protect local voices and make sure these new stations serve local communities. The Commission's mandate to foster localism and diversity will be advanced by encouraging wider pool of local applicants.

I strongly urge you to adopt the proposal described in MM Docket No. 95-31 to limit any single entity to 10 applications for the new noncommercial licenses.

Diversity in ownership adds variety to this field which in the end makes it, as a whole, stronger and better for the whole of radio.

This should not be a medium that the bottom line is the only concern for each individual or company that owns stations. There is also responsibility to the public to inform and entertain. Only through the limits in the proposal does this become possible through the voice of many instead of through the voice of one easily manipulated monopoly.
