

Slice up the internet ? who cuts it ? who owns it?

My Entire business hangs by a thread if the internet changed from an open and competitive structure.

To a sponsored , closed door and back handed "club".

Where only some countries or some home users on some ISP get access to half of internet resources .

It would damage my ability to connect with others, share information and run my 3 E-commerce websites .

Dirr