

I am opposed to WT 07-230. Being forced to get an MMSI Number twice from the FCC is unnecessary and burdensome. The time and expense to reprogram the radio and take the radio out of operation. The MMSI numbers should be portable. There will be many more boaters getting this aid to safety in the future. The Coast Guard will be burdened with the problem of boaters not being able to use this new safety system due to FCC problems.
