Dear FCC:

I am a Sirius subscriber who has owned a Sirius satellite radio since 2005. I am definitely in favor of the merger with XM Satellite Radio Inc. Sirius provides great programming and it only makes sense to combine these companies to provide more choices for the consumer. I can only hope that this merger goes through to provide this medium the leverage to survive the market dominated by terrestrial radio, digital music players, and other media sources via the internet and mobile devices. I urge the FCC and our United States Congress to have the foresight to see the benefits to the consumer and the industry and to ignore the special interest groups that are against this deal.

Sincerely,

Rich Walker
