

Adamantly opposed. Diverse media ownership is critical to a functioning democracy. Media consolidation efforts serve only to raise corporate profits for the few and to stifle communication and the dissemination of information. It's downright un-american!