

This is too important an issue for the long-term health of our democracy to be rushed. WE THE PEOPLE should be given the opportunity to speak out, for and against. The length of time for comment should be extended.