

I believe that the FCC should pass the required laws and regulations to implement low cost access to residential broadband internet service for all Americans. I support this access only if blocks on accessibility to pornography and other obscene content are a viable part of the plan/package.