Dear FCC:

The merger is good for both companies to compete with technologies such as MP3 players, Internet radio and music enabled cell phones. The proposed merger will enable satellite radio to become a stronger competitor and will drive all other players in the market, including terrestrial radio, to focus on making their services even more appealing to consumers. It will also allow the content of both companies be available to all customers, many of which, including myself, belong to both services. Please consider stepping in and telling the powers to be, speed this process up and stop wasting time.

Thank you for your time.

Sincerely,

Jason Payne
