

Democracy is in danger. A free press is essential to a democracy. There needs to be competition in the media market. Media monopoly has grown too much. You need to divest media ownership more, not concentrate it in fewer hands.