

I would like to see some limit on the bandwidth used by digital modes in the CW/digital portions of the band. And certainly auto response message systems should be very limited on the HF bands. We don't have the bandwidth to spare.