

Comcast is throttling my connection speed when I am transferring files from work to home. They are also interrupting my connections. This is uncalled for. I pay for a service and for them to purposefully interrupt my documents is unprecedented. There ought to be a law about that.