

No television programming should be without closed captioning. If any programmer can provide audio for hearing people, then they CAN provide captioning for deaf and hard of hearing residents of this country. I would challenge any programmer against undue burden.