

I am a concerned citizen writing to comment in regards to Comcast's filtering of Internet Traffic. This is not proper traffic shaping or traffic management, as Comcast claims. This isn't even a difficult or technically complex issue. Comcast is intentionally downgrading their service. They are in violation of their contracts with their customers. They should be fined by the FCC. Civil suits should be brought to bear against them as well. If the company continues to defy the will of the people and the terms of its contracts, the FCC should step in and regulate the company until a time at which Comcast can be deemed mature and competent enough to run it again.
