

I am writing in support of FCC rules protecting network neutrality.

The internet is a truly vital factor in US economic growth, democratic exchange of ideas, and technological innovation. Network neutrality is central to the internet boom we have enjoyed in recent years, and must be preserved if we are to continue with these benefits.

Please protect this vital resource by preserving network neutrality.