Dear FCC:

The corrupt politics in Washington needs to stop. The Sirius and Xm merger being held up this long is absurd. It took 3 months for Washington to decide to go to war with Iraq that destroys lives and spends trillions of dollars. All of the big oil mergers were approved with little or no hearings that clearly hurt the consumers with higher natural resources cost that are driving up inflation and weakening the dollar. Approve this merger already, I could surely use an extra few bucks in my pocket by only paying for the stations I listen to. To say there is no competition in radio is letting the lobbyist monies take root. Enough is enough, we're talking about radio. Don't allow the government to destroy innovative technology (satellite radio) by driving these companies into bankruptcy.

Sincerely,

Shawn Smith
