Dear FCC:

I don't know why this is taking so long, but the merger between the two companies is a GOOD thing. Cheaper prices, more choices, plus with the competition that's arising from HD Radio, Internet, and the sale of music through online retailers such as Apple, Amazon, and the like, there's no reason this merger shouldn't be approved. Bigger deals like the big AT&T takeover that's happened that give the consumer fewer choices of service providers, higher prices for service is astonishing. Please let this merger go through. Satellite radio is just another way to entertain the masses. Why not give them more choice?

Sincerely,

Michal Skyba
