

alex cassity
4336 So. Mulholland St.
Salt Lake City, UT 84124-3841

February 29, 2008

FCC
Federal Communications Commission
445 12th Street, SW Room TW-B204
Washington, DC 20554

Dear FCC:

If the government does not approve this deal it is going to bankrupt two companies and thousands of people will lose their jobs. This deal clearly benefits the consumer; both companies agree to have more options with price cuts. If this deal doesn't get approved all we will have to listen to is terrestrial radio with thousands of stupid commercials. And of course you're iPods, Mp3 player, Cell Phone Etc. But the point is thousands will lose their jobs and this will bring a blow to the economy.

Sirius posts -1,104,870,000 Losses in 2006, -863,000,000 Losses in 2005 and just about every year before those losses. Xm Satellite radio posts -718,000,000 Losses in 2006, -666,000,000 Losses in 2005, -642,370,000 Losses in 2004, and -584,540,000 Losses in 2003. Now Exxon Mobile posts 39,000,000,000 Net Income 2006, 36,130,000,000 Net income 2005, 25,330,000,000 Net income 2004, 21,510,000,000 net income 2003. Chevron Posts 17,000,000,000 net income 2006. Now who has the real monopoly? Congress and Senate have held four hearings on this merger, not one hearing was held on the Exxon Mobile merger.

Our government has held more hearings on this merger than on the war in Iraq. I guess this must be more important. It is clear that this would not be monopolistic both companies have agreed to A La Carte offerings, better price's. I pay $120 a month to the oil companies, $95 to Comcast, and only $12.95 a month for satellite radio. When merged I will pay even less because I will choose only the channels that I enjoy. They have lots of competition from the: IPod's, Mp3's, Cell phones, HD Radio, iTunes, terrestrial radio, etc. Right now on Sirius I currently listen to 80's, 90's, Howard Stern, Classic Rock, NFL, and Nascar. When merged I will pay significantly less because I will chose the channels that only I want to listen to. I want more options I want to be able to listen to, MLB, NHL, Oprah Winfrey, and the PGA tours all under one subscription. Right now I have to pay for two subscriptions, when merged I will choose from only the channels that I enjoy and pay significantly less. You can drive from New York to California without paying for Satillite radio but you cannot drive their without paying money to the oil company's. How is this a monopoly? If they raise their prices everyone will cancel their subscriptions and buy Ipods, HD Radio's, MP3 players, am/fm, cd players, etc.

If the government does not approve this deal the consumer will actually have fewer choices because both will go bankrupt. Deal, Or No Deal this thing should have been decided months ago. Since when does it take any government so long to make a decision? If they aren't going to approve it they should have said so months ago, if they are then they still should have said so months ago. It is so obvious that the government is trying to bankrupt both companies. They are making both Sirius and Xm run around with their heads on fire spending every penny that they have. Deal, or no Deal they are wasting everyone's time, they are going to bankrupt two companies, thousands of people are going to lose their jobs, and millions of shareholders will lose every penny invested. We as a people need to make a stand.

Sincerely,

alex
8018287090