

The Internet is not anyone's private property. The rules under which it operates should promote the public interest at large. For this reason, I urge you to support "Net Neutrality", which would prohibit Comcast's recent, deceptive blocking of peer-to-peer communications.

We do not allow the people who build or maintain our public sidewalks to decide who may use them, or to charge fees. The Internet, like our sidewalks, is a shared resource. Please protect it.