

To be completely honest, this comment is not really about violence on television. I think the real problem is sex on television but ironically, there's not section for that. I am so embarrassed that this country is allowing such filth on basic cable channels. I recently was watching a movie on television where a young man talked about masturbating while his dog licked his scrotum and then he ejaculated on the dog's face. Can you honestly tell me that this is acceptable for television? This movie was on rather early in the evening too. Would you want your children hearing these things? I also heard a man say "suck dick" on a basic cable channel. The smut that has been allowed on television is ridiculous. There is no effort to censor nudity. The only thing censored now is women's breasts and even that is a poor effort. You can clearly see the nipples through the censorship. I feel so completely let down by you. I am only 19 years old and I have lost so much hope in this country. I never wanted to restrict my children from television but I worry that when I do have children years from now, the television will be even more disgusting than it is now. Profanity should never be allowed. Words like "pussy" "dick" "shit" "fuck" should never be allowed. I don't care what time of the day it is. I've heard that there is no censorship after 11 p.m. Do you really think all children or preteens are asleep by then? Do you ever wonder what might happen to the children of the future if this is the kind of smut they are growing up on? Please, put forth more of an effort to clean up this country. You have let it get so out of control and I am incredibly disappointed. Thank you for your time.
