

I am a Subscriber of one of the SDRS. I am convinced that it is in the best interest of consumer/public that a merger between XMSR and SIRI happen, and immediately. Your committee claims to make decisions with public's best interest in mind. But, your inaction in this matter belies that stated purpose.

It is evident that consumers will receive better choice in programming, and at a lower price. The FCC has been wanting for cable service providers to offer ala Carte pricing. Here is a chance for you to crack open that door. We know that there is resistance from other broadcasters to the very concept of ala Carte pricing.

It is evident that FCC is unduely influenced by big business and consumer ends up paying for your patronage via poor quality service and inefficiency. The NAB and its paid surrogates have dragged this process too long. This fact is underscored by the 23 or so meetings FCC has held with "Georgetown". It is time to stop wasting Tax Payer's money and make a decision.

In the best interst of consumers/public, I urge you to make a decision on this matter. This may be one of the best decisions, you the five commissioners, will leave behind as your legacy at FCC.
