

i listen to christian radio while at work. to censure these stations is only going to force them out of broadcasting there message. to require them to be staffed 24/7 makes no sense, modern technology makes that notion seem outdated and "old school".