

I support KBHC/1-800-SUICIDE and am asking the FCC not to simply transfer the lines at a request of another government agency. I am asking that you recognize that HHS/SAMHSA have been trying very hard to get rid of KBHC's 1-800-SUICIDE because they created a competing hotline. Should the government be wanting private confidential caller information? We need to guard the callers identity and face the fact that HHS/SAMHSA have not paid KBHC money that Congress appropriated for no real reason. So they are taking this to the FCC to hopefully change a rule to hostilely take over the lines anyways.

Please don't allow that private phone companies like Patriot and McLeod work with HHS/SAMHSA to break the rules and go against this nonprofit and the public good! Valerie Pachla
