

Dear FCC personnel,

Please allow more frequencies to be available for LPFM radio stations so all communities can have local power FM stations.

Please keep the airwaves open for low power radio stations. They are important for keeping the information flowing at the local level, plus bringing communities together. These stations are so small that they are no competition with commercial stations, so what's the big deal? I also think it's a free speech issue.