

I am writing about the possible changes to our radio stations. I hope that you all change NOTHING. Without KLove and other stations like it we would not have God-centered music not only for ourselves, but our children. I know that my children can listen to these stations and not have to worry about bad language and obscene things that are very inappropriate. I know that not everyone cares about what their children listen to or even if there is a God, but in our life we raise our children to know God as well as get involved in everything they do. Please do not change what we are so proud of. We aren't trying to take all of the bad language and half nude things out of the peoples lives who enjoy it, so please leave us with our God and His word.
