Dear Commission Members:

I reside in a condominium community in Southeast Michigan near Detroit I get my cable television service through a private cable operator called BroadStar Communications, LLC. This company has made a significant capital investment to serve our community and their service has been more than satisfactory. They have provided the services and options that our community has been unable to get from companies like Comcast Communications and AT&T. Broadstar's services are tailored to the specific desires of individual co-owners among the multiple residents who live in each of our buildings. They are also close by, so we can get a prompt response if there is an issue. There are problems of course, from time to time, as is the case with any company providing telecommunications services, but this provider has really made an effort to assure we are given prompt and effective attention. Overall, it is my opinion that this company provides a very high quality service which is competitively priced and a welcome addition to our community.

Thank you,

To Whom It May Concern:

I have recently found out that the Federal Communications Commission is considering a change in the manner that Private Cable Operators are enabled to conduct their business. Having lived in an apartment complex for many years, this deeply concerns me. Currently, I subscribe to and receive my communications services from a Private Cable Operator, and if they were to not be able to provide me with my current services, I would be forced to go back to Comcast, which is totally unacceptable. I have spoken about this to many people and we all feel the same way. I can't say that our current provider is perfect, but they are much more reasonable and certainly are more responsive in terms of customer service. Please do not do anything that would hurt the Private Cable Operators from providing folks like me a competitive advantage.

Sincerely,

Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am currently a resident in an MDU, and I get my television service through a Private Cable Operator. They have been good for me and our building. They provide the products that we desire, the channels based on who lives in our building, and they are close by so we can get prompt response if there is an issue. Of course, there are problems from time to time, as is normal with any company, but they really make an effort to make sure we are taken care of. Overall, it is my opinion that they provide good quality service.

Thank you,

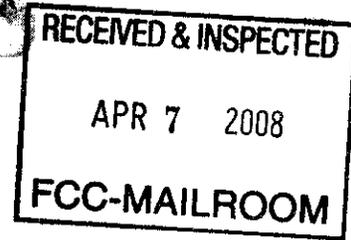

Adan Martinez

Dear Ms. Dortch,

Many people complain about communications' services provided by large companies. The company I work for recently switched to a private cable operator - BroadStar Communications, which is located in Williamstown, New Jersey. I have been very pleased with this decision. They are a small company that provides me with the individualized attention I was not receiving from my former provider. Not only are their employees a pleasure to deal with, but if a problem arises, they are here to remedy it. I am writing this letter to ask your organization to allow them the ability to operate in the same manner currently.

Thank you,
